

Dear Sir/Madam,

Our civilization has fought long and hard to give each person an equal voice and an equal choice. Removing net neutrality, in our day and age, represents yet another attempt by the wealthy to arm-wrestle their way into what we can watch and enjoy, what we can express and what we can protest against. The internet should not be a manipulating tool in the hands of the wealthy and/or governments; it belongs to all of us, equally. Do not take away net neutrality.

Thank you

Igal Harmelin
New York, NY